Description

PIERRE VINCENT GALLÉ (1883-1960) Portrait of a woman in profile, oval oil on canvas. Elegant portrait of a woman by Pierre-Vincent Gallé, an artist from Rennes, former director of the Fine Arts School of Rennes and curator of the Fine Arts Museum of the same city. This sober and refined oil on canvas presents a woman in profile against a midnight blue background, carefully styled and wearing a floral dress in brown and ivory tones from the 1930s. The subtle palette and mastery of volumes testify to Gallé's academic rigor, while the midnight blue background gives the work an intimate depth.
