Description

This 18-carat white gold ring combines classic elegance with understated refinement. It showcases a 0.81-carat oval-cut emerald, selected for the quality of its bright, even green color. The stone is securely set in a central position, ensuring both comfort and durability for everyday wear. On either side of the emerald, two pear-cut diamonds totaling 0.22 carats complete the composition. Their white brilliance contrasts with the emerald's hue and enhances the ring's visual harmony. These high-quality diamonds add extra light without weighing down the overall look. The polished 18-carat white gold ring body is finely crafted to ensure a comfortable fit and long-lasting wear. The design remains deliberately understated, in order to highlight the stones and allow this piece to fit equally well into
