Description

These earrings are distinguished by their refined elegance and original composition. Each piece combines a cabochon tourmaline, highlighted by two diamonds surrounding a black quartz pearl. The four brilliant-cut diamonds have a total weight of 0.28 carats, adding a subtle touch of light to the ensemble. A remarkable finishing element: a long red agate stem brings a deep and sophisticated note of color, reinforcing the unique character of this creation. The setting is made of 18-carat black gold, a bold choice that emphasizes the modernity of the design while remaining discreet and elegant. The closure system is secure and comfortable, in the form of clips. With a length of 6 cm, these earrings delicately elongate the face and offer a beautiful fluidity of movement. They can be worn with
