140 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Earthenware

Height : 27,5 cm

Description

Jacquot Pitcher, Eastern France, 19th century. Depicts a soldier in revolutionary attire with a "bicorne" wearing a cockade. He classically holds a bottle and a glass. Predominantly raw enamel (missing the classic green, yellow, blue, and black). The manufacturer remains to be defined. In good condition. A crack on the handle, no repairs. Note some wear to the enamel (knees). A lack of enamel on the handle (manufacturing defect) and a crack in the neck (removal of the clay during drying). (See multiple photos).
