Description

Charming little Louis XVI style console, made in the 19th century, in gilded and carved wood, resting on four legs. This characteristic, with its height of 85 cm, gives it an older appearance, faithful to the old models, which allows it to blend into an 18th century interior. Its marble, following as it should each projection, is a very elegant light gray. An old transport label under it tells us about one of its former destinations: Avignon. It is true that it has a very Provençal air. A slight tear to the marble at the back is not very visible, otherwise very stable and in very good condition.
