Description

This sterling silver and acrylic pendant and chain were made by renowned Finnish jeweler Bjorn Weckstrom in his signature modernist style around 1970. This example, known as "Kilimanjaro," combines a sculpted face in silver with a matching face in acrylic with an iridescent cobalt blue inclusion. The chain, without a clasp, features his signature circular-accented bar. The pendant is signed, but slightly obscured by the acrylic, and bears the Finnish silver hallmark and the first three letters "LAP" for Lapponia Finland.
