Description

Beautiful set of blown glass glasses from the Art Deco period around 1930, slightly misleading. The rim and the mark of the dose are silver, much rarer than the gold color. An unusual shape with its "tulip" rim, the swollen rim resting on a short stem with a button. These glasses have small differences which denote their authenticity and make all their charm. Leg and foot applied hot. Very careful manufacturing! They will make an ideal decoration for your old bar ... Dimensions: Height: 12 m Diameter at the bulge of the rim: 8 cm Opening: 7.3 m Total weight: 1 kg Very good condition otherwise perfect. No wear. Never used. Small bubbles in the mass of the glass.
