Description

Very beautiful pair of signed gouaches (and for one of them located in Rome), representing characters in spectacular animated ruins. The signature is to be deciphered. It is a French school of the first third of the 19th century inspired by the compositions of the French painter Hubert ROBERT (1733-1808) or the older Italian baroque painter Giovanni Paolo PANINI (1691-1765), with the traditional elements that they like to represent such as vaults, ruins, temples, Medici vase... . The colors are very fresh, the perspectives successful and the whole is very decorative. The gilded frames and the more modern passe-partout highlight them magnificently. Dimensions of each frame: 40 x 32 cm.
