Description

Pretty bowl with bignonias in etched glass, rare signature "Arsall". ARSALL is the brand of the Weisswasser glassworks (Vereinigte Lausitze Glaswerke AG) located near Dresden. The patent for this brand was filed in 1918. It produced until 1938 in a Nancy School style: vases in colored lined glass, decorated with a floral motif, acid-etched in cameo relief. This rare signature is therefore for amateurs and collectors. Here, it is a pretty rotating decoration of pink and purple bignonia flowers on an opaline background, entirely acid-etched. Pretty shape on a small heel and open neck. 14 cm in diameter and 10 cm in height, perfect condition, signed "arsall" on the side, circa 1920-1925. Beautiful collector's item.
