Description

Beautiful pair of bronze vases from ASIAN, late 19th century measured height 23 cm, width 15 cm. This is a pair of bronze vases, likely of Chinese or Indochinese origin, dating to the late 19th century. They are made entirely of bronze with a brown patina. They feature finely worked floral decorations in relief on the underside of the vase. The handles are shaped like chimeras, mythological creatures. There are signs of age-related wear, small dents, and scratches, consistent with antique objects.
