Description

Elegant pair of lamps consisting of sculptures of Buddha seated in meditation, made of finely molded and gilded cast iron. The figures are richly decorated with stylized floral motifs and retain a beautiful old patina. Each statue is mounted on a varnished wooden base on which rests an adjustable brass rod, supporting a double lighting, topped with a pagoda-shaped lampshade. The lampshades are original, their fabric has been restored to its full splendor. The ensemble combines traditional art and contemporary functionality. Probable origin: Thailand 20th century
