Description

Beautiful watercolor on paper, mounted on cardboard representing a seascape in which is located a small village clinging to the hill. Signed lower left W THORNLEY. This is William GEORGES THORNLEY born in 1857 in Thiais (Val de Marne) and died in 1935 in Pontoise, French post-impressionist draftsman and engraver of the 19th century. Son of a marine painter, he was introduced to drawing from his childhood. He learned painting from the landscape painters Eugène Cicéri and Mario Sirony before entering the studio of Pierre Puvis de Chavannes. He exhibited his gouaches and watercolors at the Salon from 1878 where he won some awards, and sold them in the Georges Petit gallery. He painted numerous landscapes throughout France, from the banks of the Seine towards Pontoise - the
