A simple and elegant piece of furniture. Launched in 1964, the R08A storage unit is one of the most accomplished sideboards of its generation thanks to its proportions. The locking system of the wooden doors works by interlocking on the central cube of five square centimeters, proportional to the thickness of all the sections of the piece. Very good general condition, beautiful patina, wear consistent with age and use. Stamped P. Chapo 1975. Small, very discreet snag on one foot (see the last 2 photos)
