Description

Exclusively on Proantic, discover this superb set of 6 antique carved oak chairs, an elegant testament to the craftsmanship of the late 19th century. Each piece in this set embodies the perfect blend of robustness and refinement, typical of creations inspired by the style of Daniel Marot, a renowned cabinetmaker and interior designer of the Grand Siècle. These impeccably clean chairs have been carefully preserved over the decades, and their current condition reflects a quality of workmanship rare for pieces of this age. Their solid oak frame features delicate carvings, bringing a touch of baroque grace to their silhouette. One of the most remarkable details lies in the exceptional stability of these chairs: the legs are connected by an "X" brace, reinforced by a central dowel, a joinery technique that guarantees unfailing solidity. This characteristic, both aesthetic and functional, highlights the ingenuity of the craftsmen of the time, who were keen to combine beauty and durability. Their seat and back are covered in cross-stitched tapestry, a period fabric with geometric and floral patterns, which adds a warm and authentic touch to the whole. The soft colors and subtle patterns of this tapestry harmonize perfectly with the natural tone of the oak, creating an ambiance that is both warm and sophisticated. These chairs, with their timeless style, will elegantly fit into a classic dining room, a cozy living room, or even a vintage-inspired office. They are ideal for lovers of objects steeped in history, but also for collectors looking for unique pieces capable of bringing character to a contemporary interior. Each chair has been designed to survive the ages without losing its beauty, and their acquisition represents a rare opportunity to add a touch of authenticity to your decor. Whether you are an antiques enthusiast or simply looking for furniture that tells a story, this set of 6 chairs will seduce you with its charm and timeless elegance. Don't miss the opportunity to bring a piece of history into your home, and give your interior the prestige of exceptional furniture, where every detail tells of a bygone era. These chairs are ready to find a new place in a home that will appreciate them at their true value.
