Description

Giant model of the Caisse Fraternelle de Capitalisation. In Dutch, this means Broederlijke Kas voor Kapitalisatie, a large insurance organization. The Caisse Fraternelle de Capitalisation, originally founded in 1913 in Lille, merged with Gan Capitalisation in 1977. Gan itself was integrated into the Groupama insurance group. This building is located at 6-8 rue Léon Trulin in Lille, France. The model is large. In very good condition. It is made of some kind of plastic and wood. The interior is hollow. We dare not say how old this piece is, but it is likely to date from at least the mid-20th century.
