250 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Description

French school after 1795: "Rare anonymous legitimist engraving", burin on laid paper 20 X 13.5 cm line, 25.7 X 17.8 cm fulling, 28, X 18.5 cm per sheet, presented in a sober molded frame in blackened wood 32 X 24 cm with a movable ring for hanging. Interleaved soiling and light foxing on the paper. You can see my reflection in the glass, it is not a halo ! Titled "To Immortality", it presents the profiles of Louis XVI, Marie-Antoinette and Louis XVII in profile to the right in a medallion hanging from a pyramid, below a console bearing an urn covered with a veil and surrounded by flowers surmounting the epitaph: "Virtue, Graces, Childhood, All perished by a new crime, With tearful eyes, timid hope Offers them here this modest tomb". Anonymous for obvious security
