Description

Small Restoration period mahogany bookcase. The small proportions of this bookcase are unusual. The front is made of flamed mahogany, arranged with a search for grain and symmetry. This gives a harmonious and elegant result. The upper part is made of a tray and not a simple cornice, which allows you to place a vase or trinket if necessary. The interiors are neat and glazed, the shelves are adjustable thanks to racks. The pediment of the shelves is also veneered with mahogany. The lock entries are in gilded bronze.
