Description

Japanese porcelain plate, octagonal in shape with softened corners, finely hand-painted in the traditional Arita style.

The central motif - typical of Japanese Edo-period aesthetics - depicts two flower-filled vases richly adorned with peonies, chrysanthemums, and daisies in shades of red, pink, yellow, and blue, enhanced by green foliage.

The background features an elegant navy blue wave pattern, evoking the stylized waves of Japanese woodblock prints, framed by a red and blue checkered geometric border.

Condition: Very good, with no chips or cracks; some marks on the paint, likely original.
