Description

This fine pitcher is a rare marriage of cut crystal and silver mounting, far less common than the all-silver or porcelain pieces more typical of its period. The crystal body sparkles with light, while the silver lid and handle are adorned with flowing Art Nouveau motifs, celebrating the curves and elegance of nature. Traces of its original gilding remain on the silver, which has been lightly worn by time, creating a graceful patina that only authentic antiques acquire. Compact and rich in detail, this pitcher embodies both artistry and practicality. For Art Nouveau collectors and lovers of rare table silver, this is a rare find combining beauty, history, and functionality. Origin: France Date: circa 1900
Height: 11.5 cm Maximum diameter: 9 cm
Weight: 211 g Materials: Cut crystal, silver
