Description

J.B. Greuze (and workshop), Workshop replica of Greuze's famous painting 'The Broken Mirror'. This painting, created between the late 18th and early 19th century, is based on Greuze's painting that was so successful in the 18th century. The remarkable pictorial quality expressed in the girl's face, distraught over the damage caused by the broken mirror, as well as in the rendering of the white satin dress and the overall scene, lead us to consider this late 18th-century painting as a workshop replica by the French painter. The original frame also confirms the period in which the painter worked, and having had great success with the first version of this subject, he was able to re-propose it with the grace and luminosity he was capable of.
