Description

Louis Deschamps. Oil on canvas "Sleeping Beauty at the Time of Fading" signed lower right Louis Deschamps. 50 X 75 cm. French school. Louis-Henri Deschamps (1846-1902) was a student at the Ecole des Beaux-Arts in Lyon, then at the Ecole des Beaux-Arts in Paris where he followed the courses of Alexandre Cabanel (1823-1889) in the 1870s. He exhibited at the Salon from 1873, first historical or genre paintings, then types and scenes of rustic life. From 1883, he pleaded in a series of paintings, the cause of seduced girls, abandoned children and the search for paternity, then put on the agenda by the Rivet bill; with his babies and peasant women, he painted numerous portraits and some religious paintings. His talent was original and bold, his palette luminous and soft;
