Description

Burma, mid-20th century, very pretty loom pulley carved from a single piece of wood depicting a Nat (or Nak). He is depicted standing on top of the pulley, hands clasped. The Nats or Naks are princely figures deified in Burma for many centuries in parallel with Buddhism. Their worship is practiced in order to obtain special protections. Beautiful quality workmanship restoring the beauty of the details. Dimension: Height 19.7 (cm). The scale indicator in the last photograph is a small model of a lighter from a well-known brand. Good condition except for slight normal wear and tear without impact. We take particular care with our packaging by using optimal protections. Shipping is carried out with insurance included.
