Description

Charming crystal figurine signed Lalique France, depicting the "Angry Sparrow," one of the emblematic models of the Lalique collection. This delicate bird, with finely detailed plumage, is shown with its head lowered and wings raised, ready to take flight -- a design that perfectly captures the liveliness and elegance of Lalique's style. Crafted in pressed and satin-finished crystal, this sculpture highlights the exceptional craftsmanship of Lalique, the renowned crystal house founded by René Lalique in the early 20th century and celebrated worldwide for the quality and poetry of its creations. This piece is in excellent condition. It can be acquired individually, as a pair, or in several quantities, as we have several available in our boutique. Details: Maker: Lalique
