cm Young woman sitting looking at birds in the sky A lithophane is a thin ceramic plate with a relief whose thickness varies from 1.5 to 4 mm.

The porcelain is fired twice at a temperature of 1250 °C. In normal lighting, there is practically no visible image, but a three-dimensional image is created when a light is placed behind it.

Lithophanies became particularly popular in the mid-19th century. Placed in front of a candle, they served as a bedside lamp or were hung in front of a window. link on the website
