The Antique Sculpture offered here is crafted from Bronze and depicts a Large Lioness. This 20th-century work has its original green patina. It dates back to the early 1900s. Art Deco. The sculpture depicts a Lioness crouching on a rock, poised to attack her prey, a menacing and aggressive beast, powerful and strong. The sculpture is signed on the marble base by Mercuriano, an Italian sculptor, medallist, and illustrator, known especially for his elegant bronze representations of animals. Giacomo Mercuriano (1859-1935) studied at the Academy of Fine Arts in Naples, where he created the stucco statue Aspirazione and the bronze statuette Canto Fermo, exhibited at the Promotrice in Naples. He moved to Paris, signing his works "Jacques Mercuriano" or "J. Mercuriano." He
