Description

- Oil on cardboard.- Pierre Raighasse, well represented in the collections of Breton museums, was initially trained as an architect and worked for much of his life in the overseas domains of New Caledonia, where he completed numerous building projects in Nouméa. Returning to France, he specialized in capturing the charming details of rural Breton life. This evocative "Chemin de Saint-Sauveur" is set in the gentle countryside surrounding the picturesque village of Pont-l'Abbé.- Unframed image dimensions: 22 x 33 cm / 33 x 44 cm, magnificent neoclassical gilt frame.- Galerie Montbaron includes a technical sheet prepared by a certified art historian with all its lots. This technical sheet is sent digitally upon request.
