Description

Hippolyte Garneray (1787-1858) - Watercolor on paper - Triptych of Landscapes Watercolor on paper depicting three landscape views: a countryside landscape, a seascape, and a landscape with a mill. Signature lower right on the middle one. Hippolyte Garneray (1787-1858) was a French painter, watercolorist, and engraver, primarily known for his seascapes and landscapes. He was active in the 19th century, in an artistic context influenced by Romanticism and the rise of picturesque landscapes. He worked on marine scenes, harbor views, and also more classical landscapes. He was part of a family of artists: his father, Jean-François Garneray, and his brothers were also painters. Visible at the Galerie Courcelles Antiquités, at 97 rue de Courcelles, in the 17th arrondissement.
