Description

Elegant soliflore vase, blown Murano glass, Venetian craftsmanship from the 1950s-60s. Filigrana or Zanfirico decoration, red and colorless inserted into the mass. Bubble body with a long, narrow, slightly flared neck, serrated rim, highlighted by two hot-applied twisted snake handles wrapping around the neck. Body decorated at its base with 5 red stems, tall, thin foot decorated with 2 red coiled stems, on a flat round base. Inspired by the 16th century "vetri a serpenti" style. 29cm high, approximately 8cm max diameter, 9cm wide at the handles. Mint condition, no cracks or chips, small discreet surface scratches on the top of the body (approximately 2cm). Approximately 200gr.
