Description

Louis Philippe period secretary in solid cherry wood. Beautiful quality model, the upper drawer is shaped like an ogee. The frame around the flap is also highlighted by an ogee. The theater of the secretary is in solid elm burl, with all the nuances and contrasts that this beautiful wood can offer. A small bronze highlight, underlines the refined side of this interior. Two secret drawers are hidden, they are accessible thanks to two small latches located under the neighboring drawer. With the help of springs, they are propelled when unlocked. The leather of the top, decorated with gold leaf, is recent. The backs are in solid elm wood, this piece of furniture is of robust manufacture, its weight is the manifestation of it. Two pretty bronze compasses, give stability to the work surface. The interiors are neat, and
