Description

I offer you this superb Breton wardrobe (it is a region of France) from the end of the 19th century. It is made entirely of solid oak. It opens with two side doors with panels decorated with medallions in high relief depicting busts of peasants and rural scenes, framed with floral motifs and rosettes, and a central door with a mirror. The molded and openwork lower crosspiece, highlighted with sculpted motifs and partly enhanced with a red fabric, rests on curved feet. Interior fitted out as a wardrobe. Excellent condition. The 3 original keys are functional. PLEASE NOTE: The wardrobe is completely disassembled. It is very easy to reassemble, you have to fit the doors together, it's like Lego! Everything is pegged. The wardrobe also has drawers, which can be added or not. I find it very
