Description

Saint Francis of Paola ("S. Francisco de Paula, 1895")Oil on copper, 19th century, probably from the Cusco school.Dimensions: Zinc plate 18.5x25 cm *Saint Francis of Paola (1416- died in the odor of sanctity for nearly 10 days in 1507) is an Italian religious living as a hermit, wandering the roads of Sicily and Calabria, with a strong reputation during his lifetime. Miracles are attributed to him, such as the healing of a child from an incurable illness, the gushing forth of a spring, and twice delivering cities from the plague. He was canonized in 1519 by Leo X. _____For any questions regarding this announcement, and concerning delivery terms, please do not hesitate to write to me.
