Description

Circular brass, elm and elm burl side table 1940'sElegant French side table from the 1940s, with a design combining modernism and classicism. It features a round light wood top, supported by a central column and four decorative brass rods, resting on a star-shaped base placed on 4 small brass balls. This refined and understated model evokes post-war occasional furniture, in the spirit of Jean-Charles Moreux or René Prou. The brass finishes and balanced proportions give this piece a true neo-Art Deco elegance. A rare pedestal table, perfect for a chic vintage atmosphere or a neat interior.
