Description

COD 11344A splendid Italian painting from the second half of the 17th century. Painting oil on canvas depicts Saint Roch, a celebrated French pilgrim and miracle worker. Invoked as a protector from the plague, he is most recognizable by the scallop shell pinned to his cloak, a symbol of pilgrimage.The saint is depicted half-length, gazing upward in ecstasy, while his hands crossed on his chest express devotion and contemplation. This is a painting of remarkable quality, with the pictorial rendering highlighting the face and hands, painted with precision and intensity.A painting of this kind, displayed in a studio, carries not only aesthetic value but also strong spiritual and symbolic content; the pilgrim becomes an image of each of our inner journeys. The painting features a small
