Description

Rare Neo-Gothic door from the 19th century, Eugène Viollet Le Duc period (1814-1879). It opens with two leaves decorated with a refined Cathedral-style decoration with a structure entirely in wrought metal and cast iron depicting an openwork ogival architecture, taking up the codes of the flamboyant Gothic of the end of the Middle Ages, decorated with ogee arches punctuated by quadrilobed motifs. Good condition, complete, oxidation. Dimensions: 2 m high X 82 cm wide.
