Description

Oil on panel - The Golfer Signed M. Smith This painting powerfully and precisely captures a golfer in the downward phase of his swing, at the crucial moment before impact with the ball. The concentrated posture, the twisting of the body and the contained energy convey both the technical tension and the elegance of this emblematic golf gesture. Through his play of vibrant greens and his tight framing, the artist highlights the athletic silhouette of the player in a setting that evokes the British landscapes, the historical cradle of this sport. In the tradition of English painters who celebrated leisure and sports, M. Smith delivers here a lively scene where art and the world of golf come together in an expressive and refined painting. 25.5 x 20 without frame 36 x 32 with frame
