Description

Elegant pair of Empire period candelabra in marble and gilt bronze. Each piece is adorned with a delicately sculpted winged Victory, holding in her hands two finely chiseled candle sockets.

The marble base completes the composition with Empire-style decoration: a frieze of stylized palmettes and a laurel wreath in gilt bronze emphasize the harmony of the ensemble. This symbolic ornament, emblematic of the period, enhances the solemn and triumphant character of the pair.

They will easily find their place on a console or sideboard, bringing a touch of classical elegance to any interior.
