Description

Set of four armchairs by Jacques Adnet. Made of iron and leather, the vertical axes end in a brass ball. They are in used condition with the original leather, cracked but in very good condition. The seats have been reinforced underneath with a welded metal mesh to ensure their strength. Jacques Adnet is an innovative designer of the 20th century, in search of simplicity. His taste is expressed here with elegance in the fifties. Dimensions: total width 64 cm, seat height 47 cm, total height at the backrest 88 cm.
