The desk is also distinguished by its curved legs and its slightly wavy shape on all sides. The exquisite top is covered in calfskin, decorated with small vegetal incisions along the edges and in the center. The desk is also a central desk, equipped with drawers on both sides, but they only open from the front. This desk is a unique piece of furniture, capable of furnishing any space with taste and refinement. French manufacture, first half of the 19th century. Measurements: H x W x D 79 x 146
