Description

Elegant and rare engraving signed Louis Icart, one of the emblematic artists of Art Deco, representing Thaïs, a sensual and mysterious female figure inspired by the famous antique courtesan or by Massenet's opera. This is an artist's proof, a privileged edition produced in very small quantities, often enhanced by hand, testifying to the personal attention paid by Icart to this composition. We find his characteristic style: the grace of the lines, the delicacy of the veils, the captivating charm of the female figure, all bathed in an atmosphere that is both light and refined. An ideal work for collectors of graphic art from the early 20th century, or for lovers of femininity sublimated through French elegance.
