

Rare Pair Of Celadon Oil Lamps - Napoleon III

520 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Description

Magnificent pair of electrified oil lamps from the Napoleon III period of superb quality. Very fashionable at this time, the celadon green enamel color reminiscent of Chinese porcelain, has become, over time, very rare which gives them this refinement and delicacy acquired during the empire. They rest on a chiseled bronze base forming garlands and floral motifs. The bodies of the lamps are provided, on all sides, with a spring decoration in very fine white enamels and in relief highlighting even more the celadon green of the lamps. In perfect condition, they will delight all elegant living rooms. Height 46 cm
