Description

Timothy Greenfield-Sanders (born 1952) Keith Haring, from the series Art World, New York, 1985. Silver print. Visible: 25.5 x 18.5 cm. Framed: 40.5 x 34.5 cm. Literature: Timothy Greenfield-Sanders, Art World, published in 1999 by Fotofolio. The photographer met Keith Haring in the mid-1980s within the context of the East Village art scene in New York. In May 1985, he invited Haring to sit for a portrait in his studio as part of the photographic project The New Irascibles, dedicated to artists of the East Village. The session was intended to bring together Keith Haring, Jean-Michel Basquiat, and Kenny Scharf. As Basquiat did not appear that day, only photographs of Haring, either alone or with Kenny Scharf, were taken, using an 11 x 14 large-format view camera as well as a
