Description

Superb geometric abstract composition in the spirit of Piet Mondrian's neoplasticism, executed in oil on wood by the Belgian painter Alain Weytsman. The work is characterized by a black grid punctuated by flat areas of bright colors (red, blue, yellow, green, gray) and presented in a circular wooden frame that particularly highlights the decorative and modern aspect of the painting. On the back, a decorative protection ensures the solidity and good conservation of the panel. Alain Weytsman (born in 1951, Belgium) is a contemporary artist whose abstract and decorative compositions have been regularly offered at public auctions. His work focuses on the balance of shapes and colors, with a graphic research that is in line with the great masters of geometric abstraction. His works arouse the interest of
