Description

Bronze by Marioton Eugène Marioton was a French sculptor and medalist, born on April 7, 1857 in Paris where he died in the 4th arrondissement on September 19, 1933. He was the brother of the sculptor Claudius Marioton and the painter Jean Alfred Marioton. Eugène Marioton was a student of Auguste Dumont, Gabriel-Jules Thomas and Jean-Marie Bonnassieux at the École des Beaux-Arts in Paris. In 1883, at the sketch competition, he presented The Daughter of Jephthah Coming to Meet Her Father, a terracotta bas-relief. The same year, he won first prize in the competition of the Société Libre des Beaux-Arts with the marble bas-relief Hero and Leander, as well as a grant of 1,200 francs from the General Council of the Seine intended to help young artists without fortune.
