Description

Cast iron coat rack/cloakroom from the Napoleon III period. Signed Alfred Corneau in Charleville, these 19th century foundries offered several models, ours is reference 15. Very inspired by nature, it rests on an ovoid base decorated with bouquets of flowers acting as a water receiver for the umbrella stand positioned above. Several volutes representing branches which transform into hooks, seven in number for this model. At height, a removable medallion mirror allowed you to adjust your hat! The top ends with a vase filled with flowers. Green in color, it has retained its original enamel paint! Composed of several elements all removable. Very good condition, without breakage or restoration.
