Description

Horse. Patinated metal. 19th century. Figure of a walking horse with a bronze base and a patinated iron animal. It shows a strong influence of the animal figures common in the 19th century French school, such as the care taken with the composition, the search for naturalism, etc. It is particularly reminiscent of the models of Pierre-Jules Mène (Paris, 1810-1879), a French sculptor specializing in domestic animals, whose works are part of important private and institutional collections, such as those of the Louvre Museum. Weight: 11 kg. Dimensions: 40 x 13 x 30 cm
