Description

[LA VILLE (François de)] - Legitimate prejudices against Jansenism, with an abridged history of this error from the beginning of the troubles that Jansenius and M. Arnaud caused in the world until their pacification, and a preface in which one determines what judgment one must form today of the disciples of Jansenius. One has placed at the end the Constitutions of Innocent X and Alexander VII and the censorship of Sorbonne, by a doctor of Sorbonne. Cologne, Chez Abraham Du Bois, 1688; in-12, 56 ppnch. + 289 pp., full vellum binding of the time, smooth spine, title piece in black morocco, covers stamped with the arms of Baron Guillaume Pavée de Vendevre. Work which presents Jansenism as a rebel party in the church. Arnauld replied that the City was harming the Church by dividing the
