Description

A rectangular coffee table with a modern and understated style. It features a rectangular top in black marble, with a matte surface and a slightly rough appearance, dotted with natural marks.The frame is made of medium brown oak wood.The base is made of cross-shaped (X) legs, connected by a rectangular crossbar that runs around the base, providing stability. The overall style is a blend of rustic and modern, thanks to the combination of warm wood and dark stone.The minimalist and solid design is perfect for a contemporary industrial living room. This table also comes with two matching end tables. They can be seen on my profile.
