Description

Life-size sculpture in green and blue glazed ceramic, 1970s
Life-size sculpture of a heron
Period: 1970s
Height: 68 cm
Elegant sculpture depicting a heron in a natural pose, modeled with great attention to detail and real proportions. The bird is depicted leaning slightly forward, with its long beak ready to dive into the aquatic reeds that form the base of the sculpture. The surface is covered with a vibrant polychrome glaze in shades of green and blue, which gives it iridescent reflections and a glossy effect with a striking visual impact.
