Description

Superb solid oak wardrobe, molded, carved and deeply curved. It opens with two doors with four crosspieces and three flat panels, the central crosspieces are finely carved with floral scrolls, it is topped with a large ogee cornice enhanced with a shell. The sides are curved in an arch and compartmentalized in three panels, they are attached to the face by molded cut sides in the mass. It rests on curved and molded feet in the extension of the uprights. Brass lock entries and pins, original key and lock. Magnificent quality of cabinetmaking and very beautiful waxed finish. North of France, period 1800-1830.
