Description

Finely chiseled gilt bronze table lamp decorated with an eagle holding a glass paste tulip (possibly Muller Frères), base decorated with stylized motifs, model by Charles Ranc*, Art Deco period, early 20th century. This lamp is in good condition, superb quality. Unsigned. The electrics have been redone, works perfectly. Please note: some tiny dents and wear from time, see photos. * Charles Ranc founded his lighting bronze company in 1909 in Paris and set it up at 64 rue de la Folie-Méricourt. His brothers Eugène and Auguste, as well as his sister Madeleine, joined him in 1928 and the company name became "Ranc Frères". In 1930 the business was transferred to 97 rue Oberkampf. Ranc's productions were particularly renowned for the precision of their finely chiseled bronzes and the
